For example, if two individuals tie for 2nd place, the BUCS Points sets for 2nd place and 3rd place will be combined, and the total amount of BUCS Points split equally among them.

Team Championships (Events)

Following a detailed review conducted with our Members, BUCS has made changes to the way BUCS Points are allocated across all BUCS Team Championships (Events).

BUCS Points are now allocated to the top 24 places of a global ranking produced for each gender category at a Championships from the results of all levels of competition (Championship/Trophy/Shield) within the respective gender category. A higher finishing position in the global ranking will always receive more BUCS Points than any position below it (until the points places run out at 24th place).

Where there are separate levels of competition (Championship/Trophy/Shield) within a gender category throughout a Championships, Championship teams will always be ranked above Trophy teams and Trophy teams always ranked above Shield teams.

Where all teams within a gender category start at the same level of competition before some or all teams later progress into separate levels of competition (Championship/Trophy/Shield), Championship teams will always be ranked above Trophy teams, Trophy teams will always ranked above Shield teams, and Shield teams will always be ranked above any teams which do not progress to any of these separate levels.

This table shows the standard BUCS Points allocations that can be available for ranking positions within a gender category at Team Championships (Events). The sport specific sections which follow will show what allocations are available at each specific Championships, subject to the number of entries received and/or the number of entrants who attend and/or compete.

As a result of this, in the National League, 9th place is allocated more BUCS Points than 7th place and 8th place, and 10th place is allocated more BUCS Points than 8th place, and the same amount of BUCS Points as 7th place, as the teams finishing in 9th and 10th do not progress to the National Championship knockout competition.
